We have the right to seek review of this administrative determination by the entire Loft Board. I think it is possible the Board may not approve it. I am assuming you will want me to apply for that review, but it should be known, it's at least a $2000 legal project. That said, I am not sure you have a choice.

Please let me know when you want to discuss.

Below is the appeal from administrative determination that we prepared. I will leave it to you about distributing to the group.

This set of papers, when replied to by the landlord, will go before the entire Loft Board. The Board can affirm the decision we appealed from, reverse it or have factfinding conducted either at the Loft Board or at Oath. In other words, unlike other filings at the Loft Board that automatically go to Oath, this one does not.

I should tell you that both the Loft Board director and deputy director resigned last week. The most senior attorney left at the Loft Board is practicing around 5 years. You've met him, Mr Clarke, and he's a nice person but I am not impressed with him in any way as a lawyer. I do not think anything much will happen with this appeal until some time after there is a new director.

When I worked at the Loft Board, even the directorship was not political, and I was deputy director and my job was absolutely not political. I think this has changed and it doesn't surprise me that much to have the director resign due to the new incoming administration. However, he is only there 6 months and the last time administrations changed, it took them a year to get a new director so he could have had at least another year.

I still have a problem with the Golden Drum because they told me to make a settlement proposal and once made, they won't honor it. Usually I don't continue as counsel for people who do things like that.

I don't expect you to do anything about it, you have done what you can, and I'm thinking you expect me to represent them, so I'm not sure what to do.

Have a lovely holiday.

Folks,

I reached out to Margaret Sandercock today to facilitate the subs of counsel and transfer of the files. She mentioned that there is a 4th matter she was working on that we should sub in on:

"You should note there is one other matter that you should be taking over. We have a pending application for review by the full LB of a decision by the prior executive director that the Loft Board will not enforce the commitment of the landlord to do PAA's for all the units you are taking over, and also Hubbard and Lockhart. The architect being used for that is Neratoff."

Do you have the administrative determination this refers to and the application / papers filed seeking to appeal it? Please send as soon as you can so we can review. (I have asked her for them as well if you are unable to find them).

She also stated they would issue the final invoices soon, and as soon as they are paid, send us the files.

I expect to send you the subs of counsel today or tomorrow to get started as each of you have to sign them as well before a notary public.

Folks,

Attached is the substitution of counsel for the OATH harassment application. Please sign it in the line indicated with your name before a notary public. The notary should then complete,

sign and stamp the acknowledgment at the bottom of page 2 or the last page. You can each have it signed and notarized and pass the document along, or sign separate versions I can put together in one pdf later.

You can print this document and bring it to sign before a notary or any local bank may have a notary on staff and do it for free or for a small charge, just need to call them and ask what time the notary is in.

We can also set up appointments for video notarization (but this is billable time which is less cost effective). For video notarization, you should have your ID, and be able to either print the affidavit and sign it in front of me via video meeting or have the ability to electronically sign with adobe or other programs, and share your screen so I can "watch" you sign.

Let me know how you want to proceed with notarizations.

Best,

Nina

It is important to get this done before you leave, as we need to step into these cases asap. What time do you leave tomorrow morning? I could meet with you for a virtual notarization if you have access to a printer in the morning.

Subject: 226 Franklin - Sub of counsel OATH Harassment application

Folks,

Attached is the substitution of counsel for the OATH harassment application. Please sign it in the line indicated with your name before a notary public. The notary should then complete, sign and stamp the acknowledgment at the bottom of page 2 or the last page. You can each have it signed and notarized and pass the document along, or sign separate versions I can put together in one pdf later.

You can print this document and bring it to sign before a notary or any local bank may have a notary on staff and do it for free or for a small charge, just need to call them and ask what time the notary is in.

We can also set up appointments for video notarization (but this is billable time which is less cost effective). For video notarization, you should have your ID, and be able to either print the affidavit and sign it in front of me via video meeting or have the ability to electronically sign with adobe or other programs, and share your screen so I can "watch" you sign.

Let me know how you want to proceed with notarizations.

Best,

Nina

Folks,

Attached is the substitution of counsel for the OATH harassment application. Please sign it in the line indicated with your name before a notary public. The notary should then complete, sign and stamp the acknowledgment at the bottom of page 2 or the last page. You can each have it signed and notarized and pass the document along, or sign separate versions I can put together in one pdf later.

You can print this document and bring it to sign before a notary or any local bank may have a notary on staff and do it for free or for a small charge, just need to call them and ask what time the notary is in.

We can also set up appointments for video notarization (but this is billable time which is less cost effective). For video notarization, you should have your ID, and be able to either print the affidavit and sign it in front of me via video meeting or have the ability to electronically sign with adobe or other programs, and share your screen so I can "watch" you sign.

Let me know how you want to proceed with notarizations.

Best,

Nina

Folks,

I reached out to Margaret Sandercock today to facilitate the subs of counsel and transfer of the files. She mentioned that there is a 4th matter she was working on that we should sub in on:

"You should note there is one other matter that you should be taking over. We have a pending application for review by the full LB of a decision by the prior executive director that the Loft Board will not enforce the commitment of the landlord to do PAA's for all the units you are taking over, and also Hubbard and Lockhart. The architect being used for that is Neratoff."

Do you have the administrative determination this refers to and the application / papers filed seeking to appeal it? Please send as soon as you can so we can review. (I have asked her for them as well if you are unable to find them).

She also stated they would issue the final invoices soon, and as soon as they are paid, send us the files.

I expect to send you the subs of counsel today or tomorrow to get started as each of you have to sign them as well before a notary public.

Best,

Nina

Margaret,

Apologies for the delayed response, we've spent the past few weeks deciding how best to move forward as a tenants group.

While we appreciate your efforts during your time as our legal representation, this email confirms that we are terminating your services for all matters, as you invited, effective immediately. We do not and no longer believe that you represented our interests, as demonstrated by, amongst other matters, your setting of ultimatums, unwillingness to advocate for us, and refusal to present our position on settlement.

We have retained Ween & Kozek to take over our representation in all matters going forward. Please coordinate with their office to turn over the file and provide any relevant background.

Please send us final invoices for any outstanding work and we will settle them up immediately.

Subject: Re: 226 Franklin - Sub of counsel OATH Harassment application
Folks,

I wanted to check in and ask if everyone has paid their bill to Margaret Sandercock or if anything remains outstanding. I have still not received subs of counsel from her on the harassment application and the administrative appeal - she has stated she is withholding signature along with the files until all the bills have been paid. I bumped Ms. Sandercock today as well. (Just a note I will still need to send you all the sub of counsel on the administrative appeal, but I do not have any index numbers for it yet.)

Please let us know re the bills,

Thanks,

Nina

Folks,

Attached is the substitution of counsel for the OATH harassment application. Please sign it in the line indicated with your name before a notary public. The notary should then complete, sign and stamp the acknowledgment at the bottom of page 2 or the last page.

You can each have it signed and notarized and pass the document along, or sign separate versions I can put together in one pdf later.

You can print this document and bring it to sign before a notary or any local bank may have a notary on staff and do it for free or for a small charge, just need to call them and ask what time the notary is in.

We can also set up appointments for video notarization (but this is billable time which is less cost effective). For video notarization, you should have your ID, and be able to either print the affidavit and sign it in front of me via video meeting or have the ability to electronically sign with adobe or other programs, and share your screen so I can "watch" you sign.

Let me know how you want to proceed with notarizations.

Best,

Nina

Hey Nina,

Kate has been handling our billing with Margaret, and (Kate correct me if I'm wrong) we should be all settled up.

Folks,

I wanted to check in and ask if everyone has paid their bill to Margaret Sandercock or if anything remains outstanding. I have still not received subs of counsel from her on the harassment application and the administrative appeal - she has stated she is withholding signature along with the files until all the bills have been paid. I bumped Ms. Sandercock today as well. (Just a note I will still need to send you all the sub of counsel on the administrative appeal, but I do not have any index numbers for it yet.)

Please let us know re the bills,

Thanks,

Nina

Updates: I received everyone's subs of counsel and I have submitted them to Sandercock for signature. I am still waiting on some caption information in relation to the PAA Admin Appeal in order to prepare a sub of counsel in that proceeding so I may have one more to send around.

As a reminder, everyone if you have not already, please pay your Sandercock invoices promptly so that we can obtain the files and get read into your cases as quickly as possible.

Folks,

Attached is the substitution of counsel for the OATH harassment application. Please sign it in the line indicated with your name before a notary public. The notary should then complete, sign and stamp the acknowledgment at the bottom of page 2 or the last page.

You can each have it signed and notarized and pass the document along, or sign separate versions I can put together in one pdf later.

You can print this document and bring it to sign before a notary or any local bank may have a notary on staff and do it for free or for a small charge, just need to call them and ask what time the notary is in.

We can also set up appointments for video notarization (but this is billable time which is less cost effective). For video notarization, you should have your ID, and be able to either print the affidavit and sign it in front of me via video meeting or have the ability to electronically sign with adobe or other programs, and share your screen so I can "watch" you sign.

Let me know how you want to proceed with notarizations.

Best,

Nina

Subject: Fwd: CRITICAL: The new Loft Board Rules will impact your future tenancy. We need your help TODAY

Hi folks, late notice but there's an important upcoming hearing at the Loft Board regarding their new proposed regulations. We are still finalizing loft tenant written comments to submit before the hearing but today is the deadline to sign up to give live testimony. Even if you don't know exactly what to say (we can work on that) if you are interested in potentially testifying, please sign up. Then we can work on the script.

CRITICAL: The new Loft Board Rules will impact your future tenancy. We need your help TODAY

The new rules will translate the Loft Law into actions that will dictate your coverage

Dear New York City Loft Tenant,

If the Loft Law is the index, the Loft Board Rules are the book by which we will live by. The Rules translate the law's language into actions that the Board, City agencies and most importantly, ALL of us will need to abide and conform to.

It is CRITICAL that tenants share their personal stories about how the Rules have impacted them, especially where the existing rules have not been sufficient to protect them, or, when proposed new rules will hurt.

This is a rare opportunity for you to speak directly to the Loft Board and TODAY IS THE LAST DAY TO SIGN UP (see how below).

There are two ways to participate:

Testify in person (sign up deadline is today). This is by far the most impactful way to share your story. The Hearing offers a rare opportunity to address and share your experiences directly with members of the Loft Board.

Loft tenants wishing to speak at the Hearing MUST:

Sign up by Thursday (TODAY), December 1, 2022, by emailing nycloftboard@buildings.nyc.gov. Include your name and affiliation (ie tenant of IMD building address), and Attend in person Thursday, December 8, 2-5 pm at 22 Reade Street, New York.

If you do sign up, please let us know by filling out our google form here!

Submit written comments. If you can't attend in person or would prefer to share your story in writing, written comments may be submitted online until December 8, 2022.

NYCLT will be hosting optional Zoom meetings to answer any questions or discuss or review your testimony on Wednesday, November 30, and Wednesday, December 7 at 7 pm. Fill out our Google form sign up for the Zoom meetings HERE.

Ideas for some issues expressed by Loft tenants:

Construction as harassment

Cost of legal action

Fraudulent C of O

Heat

High-end offices instead of housing, local businesses, or manufacturing

Housing conditions

Kitchens

Legalization as a weapon

Loss of sleeping areas → unaffordability

Luxury instead of MDL legalization

Narrative statement agreements not enforceable

Narrative statement time frame too short for larger buildings

Relocation cost

Response to landlord compliance amnesty

Abuse of extension; landlord works only on market-rate units, brings frivolous lawsuits in pursuit of tenant self-eviction, does work that disrupts future use of utilities such as natural gas.

Add your issue here!

The new proposed Loft Board Rules can be found here:
<https://rules.cityofnewyork.us/rule/amendments-to-loft-board-rules/>

The Hearing will be held on December 8, 2-5 pm at 22 Reade Street.

We spend all the money lobbying to improve the Loft Law.

Hey chris,

if you could do me a favor the next time you're at the apt-

I thought I was going to be in town this week but I'm not, if you could use a check off the fridge to write $68.30 for the utilities and put it in the box downstairs. Hope you're doing well. Heads up- I lost my phone this weekend so if you need to reach me send me an email.

Thanks!

Just to clarify, what is the "settlement conference" for? What are we "settling"? The harassment case, or does it have a broader scope? PAA's?

Thank you.

Peace,

Folks,

We are confirmed for March 9 at 2pm for the conference. Video link below, it uses webex so you may want to download or try it out in advance but I think it works in a browser as well.

The conference is meant to discuss the issues in the harassment application specifically, the merits of the case and what each side wants in relation thereto. But settlement negotiation can involve all sorts of matters depending on what each side wants and is willing to give/give up in order to settle.

We would also like to have a meeting with just you the tenants and us your attorneys in advance of the conference tomorrow. Can you please make time to meet 12:30pm tomorrow just before the conference so we can discuss?

Please confirm meeting advance,

Best,

Nina

Folks,

We are confirmed for March 9 at 2pm for the conference. Video link below, it uses webex so you may want to download or try it out in advance but I think it works in a browser as well.

The conference is meant to discuss the issues in the harassment application specifically, the merits of the case and what each side wants in relation thereto. But settlement negotiation can involve all sorts of matters depending on what each side wants and is willing to give/give up in order to settle.

We would also like to have a meeting with just you the tenants and us your attorneys in advance of the conference tomorrow. Can you please make time to meet 12:30pm tomorrow just before the conference so we can discuss?

Please confirm meeting advance,

Best,

Nina

I can meet at 12 but I honestly don't know what a "settlement conference" means.

Are we discussing a settlement for our loft with Marty and his attorney? That is something I wish I was more prepared for.

Somehow I thought we were meeting at 2pm, just us, about a settlement conference that was happening in the future.

I can meet at 12 but I honestly don't know what a "settlement conference" means.

Are we discussing a settlement for our loft with Marty and his attorney? That is something I wish I was more prepared for.

Kathryn-

at 12:30 you, your neighbors and your attorneys - Michael and I - will meet by video to discuss our options, the harassment case, and what is going to happen at the settlement conference which takes place at 2.

The settlement conference at 2 pm is a video meeting before an administrative law judge that we all attend along with owner and their attorneys. At the settlement conference we will discuss the merits of the case, and possible settlement with the other side between all the parties. You will not be expected to speak- Michael and I will do that on your behalf.

We will prepare you for what to expect at the settlement conference during our earlier meeting, just us, at 12:30. No need to stress- everything will be explained in detail at 12:30.

Oh man, I feel like I didn't handle that real well when I had a chance to speak.

Marty obviously doesn't want to do the work, that's why he bought everyone else out. Didn't Erez give him access, move out, and then he never did the work?

So many people that sold, sold because Marty was going to take away one or more of their bedrooms away. They sold because they couldn't handle the fight anymore or risk losing a bedroom. There would have been many ways for them to keep their bedrooms but Marty faught all the possibilities because he wanted them to leave.

Ugh, so annoying.

I didn't like that judge at all.

Anyway, I can get my list to you asap. Because I've already made it and shared it with Marty, the loft board, and past attorneys multiple times.

At meetings at the loft board, that I had to take off work for, we all agreed to things and then Marty's architect won't put it in the plans.

Because he doesn't want us to be happy, he wants it to get prolonged. And the Loft Bord just doesn't care. I don't understand how the judge can't see that.

Marty personally told me the work on my apartment will get done last because he wants to buy me out and keep that option open as long as he can.

Thanks Michael and Nina. I'm glad we have you working with us.

I thought you did great Kate. And yes, I did call their bluff and told them they could legalize, they just jerked me around and haven't heard a thing since.

For what's it's worth, I've been and continue to pay rent in full.

Oh man, I feel like I didn't handle that real well when I had a chance to speak.

Marty obviously doesn't want to do the work, that's why he bought everyone else out. Didn't Erez give him access, move out, and then he never did the work?

So many people that sold, sold because Marty was going to take away one or more of their bedrooms away. They sold because they couldn't handle the fight anymore or risk losing a bedroom. There would have been many ways for them to keep their bedrooms but Marty fought all the possibilities because he wanted them to leave.

Ugh, so annoying.

I didn't like that judge at all.

Anyway, I can get my list to you asap. Because I've already made it and shared it with Marty, the loft board, and past attorneys multiple times.

At meetings at the loft board, that I had to take off work for, we all agreed to things and then Marty's architect won't put it in the plans.

Because he doesn't want us to be happy, he wants it to get prolonged. And the Loft Board just doesn't care. I don't understand how the judge can't see that.

Marty personally told me the work on my apartment will get done last because he wants to buy me out and keep that option open as long as he can.

Thanks Michael and Nina. I'm glad we have you working with us.

Kathryn-

at 12:30 you, your neighbors and your attorneys - Michael and I - will meet by video to discuss our options, the harassment case, and what is going to happen at the settlement conference which takes place at 2.

The settlement conference at 2 pm is a video meeting before an administrative law judge that we all attend along with owner and their attorneys. At the settlement conference we will discuss the merits of the case, and possible settlement with the other side between all the parties. You will not be expected to speak- Michael and I will do that on your behalf.

We will prepare you for what to expect at the settlement conference during our earlier meeting, just us, at 12:30. No need to stress- everything will be explained in detail at 12:30.

See you all tomorrow at 12:30!

Are we discussing a settlement for our loft with Marty and his attorney? That is something I wish I was more prepared for.

Folks,

We are confirmed for March 9 at 2pm for the conference. Video link below, it uses webex so you may want to download or try it out in advance but I think it works in a browser as well.

The conference is meant to discuss the issues in the harassment application specifically, the merits of the case and what each side wants in relation thereto. But settlement negotiation can involve all sorts of matters depending on what each side wants and is willing to give/give up in order to settle.

We would also like to have a meeting with just you the tenants and us your attorneys in advance of the conference tomorrow.

Can you please make time to meet 12:30pm tomorrow just before the conference so we can discuss?

Please confirm meeting advance,

Best,

Nina

Hi all – checking in here as we are in receipt of Mr. Paknia's most recent Legalization Progress Report.

It states: "We are awaiting Loft Board to begin the clock in order to issue certification" and mentions the most recent conference in April 2021.

Mr. Paknia: what job applications does Owner still need Loft Board approval to continue on?

Have the most recent sets of plans for which LB approval is required been filed with us so we can start said clocks?

Please let me know, as the prior progress on legalization of this building predates me. Thanks everyone.

Sorry for the delay on this Michael. It was a bit of a mess, most of us worked w both of them during the protracted back and forth. Personally I became frustrated with Atlas and hired a personal architect to help me with my plans (which were more or less were approved, and appear to remain intact based on what you've sent over) I know most were not so fortunate.

Sorry for the delay on this Michael. It was a bit of a mess, most of us worked w both of them during the protracted back and forth. Personally I became frustrated with Atlas and hired a personal architect to help me with my plans (which were more or less were approved, and appear to remain intact based on what you've sent over) I know most were not so fortunate.

Good morning,

I wanted to follow up on our conference earlier this month with information related to maintenance issues for unit g22. Please let me know if there is more information you would like from me. I am also attaching several pdfs prepared by our architect alexandr neratoff related to the legalization work for my unit. If you are already familiar with these or do not want them, I apologize.

- "report on questionable legalization plan certification" - includes a section describing the negative changes made by the landlord and tenant objections for unit g22

- a collection of the landlords plans for unit g22 in sequence over several drafts

- an alternative unit plan proposal for g22

- notes on alternative unit plan proposal

If the landlord wants to move forward with the legalization work and avoid escalating the harassment case, is it possible that they might adopt some of the changes we are proposing in our plans? The drawings submitted for our units by the landlord are not the product of discussion/negotiation. It is very clear when you look at the sequence of changes to my unit that they are meant to disrupt usage as well as limit light and air. My alternative proposal requires less work and fewer changes yet Marty prefers plans that will cost him more time and money.

I

was a bit confused by Shapiro's characterization of the tenants. He says we are the reason his client hasn't done the work etc but Marty requested access to conduct the legalization work in g22 in the summer of 2020. At that time Bob Petrucci told me I had to let them come in and perform the work. He requested they do the work in october 2020 due to covid concerns. I have not heard a word about it since those initial requests for access which were very distressing.

Going forward- Considering I do not intend to remain in the building indefinitely, do I really need to worry about amending the landlord's plans for my unit? Ideally I would sell my rights to him for a good number and walk away, so let me know if or how the strategy for my unit is different from the other tenants.

CEILING MAINTENANCE ISSUES

Chris mentioned he was able to show you my unit briefly during your walkthrough. The ceiling has always allowed light, dirt, and sound into the unit since I moved in. There are many emails with the landlord about issues related to liquid and noise from upstairs since 2011 but there has never been any work done to address it. To my knowledge all of the ground floor units in the building have similar ceilings with similar issues.

The raw ceiling does not appear to be sealed or maintained properly. liquids and debris can pass through the ceiling throughout the unit. Spills and drips can occur anywhere and have damaged most of my property in some way. Dirt, dust, and rodent feces pass through the ceiling to create a perpetually dirty space and poor air quality .

Several areas of the ceiling leak consistently throughout the day. Some of the leaks above the kitchen are related to plumbing upstairs. I do not know if these pipes are leaking or if it is the fixtures above.

There are many other pipes, cords, and lengths of conduit running through and across the ceiling. Some of these other pipes leak and the areas where they pass through the ceiling are often unsealed so light, dirt, bugs, rodents etc can get in. It is very messy and I have removed multiple rodent nests over the years from metal boxes and cabinets associated with obsolete electrical wiring that has been left intact. There are cables and cords that also appear to be out of use and should be removed.

OTHER MAINTENANCE ISSUES

-The bathroom sink and toilet seals are failing. The caulking at the base of the toilet appears to have rotted and there are gaps exposing a hole in the concrete slab.

-The pipes running through the bathroom are covered in something like rust and deteriorating; shedding bits of metal. I assume they should be painted or treated in some way.

-There is some kind of suction/pressurized cap in the ground in the middle of the 2nd bedroom. I don't know what this is but if it is plumbing related it should be appropriately sealed

-The windows need repair or replacement- some of them have broken parts and all of them are very difficult to open.

-The ceiling fixture/fan in the 2nd bedroom is not wired properly and doesn't work.

with all the consistent leaks I would be pretty confident there is mold under the raised wood platform in the kitchen and the bathroom. The shared wall with Chris almost certainly has mold since the sprinkler incident in 2019, as well as some of the ceiling that was affected. I have not had any tests done in my unit so I don't know that I should present this as a maintenance issue, however Chris has and it discourages me from spending more time in the unit. let me know if you want me to take any steps related to mold testing etc

A question about rent- why is Marty allowed to send out invoices every month? Shapiro said tenants are free to give Marty money and he is free to take it. But Marty's office sends invoices, follow up invoices, notices suggesting late fees and other penalties, etc which suggest otherwise. Is this not a problem for him? How is he allowed to have new tenants sign leases?

Thank you

Hey everyone,

Just had a phone call with Michael about my unit and he recommended we have a group check in to get caught up on the state of affairs (I cc'd him on this email).

Hopefully we can find a time next week or soon after when we can all meet.

It's 12 plus hour days and not great reception so I don't think I'll be able to fit in a meeting.

The 9th I'll have off but that's a Saturday so I don't know if that would work for everyone.

Could we do the following week? The week of the 11th?

Sorry for the delay I was almost switched to another trip but it looks like I'll be on tour 9/5-9/8.

It's 12 plus hour days and not great reception so I don't think I'll be able to fit in a meeting.

The 9th I'll have off but that's a Saturday so I don't know if that would work for everyone.

Could we do the following week? The week of the 11th?

Sorry for the delay I was almost switched to another trip but it looks like I'll be on tour 9/5-9/8.

It's 12 plus hour days and not great reception so I don't think I'll be able to fit in a meeting.

The 9th I'll have off but that's a Saturday so I don't know if that would work for everyone.

Could we do the following week? The week of the 11th?

Hey Kathryn,

Thanks for checking in.

Our last invoice for 237.50 was paid.

We have a new invoice for 527.50. So that's 131.86 per person, please send it over when you can.

That 145.20 in that invoice is a charge for a 1 on 1 between you and Kozek, so you're responsible personally for that one.

Hope everyone is well.

Hey all,

Finally got to the bottom of this outstanding 237.50.

The reason I missed it was we were billed the same amount (and paid that amount) previously, so I assumed it was just an oversight on their end.

Went back and forth with Michael Busch who handles their accounting, and saw that there was an additional 237.50 worth of work they did associated with some filings with the loft board awhile back,

All that to say, we owe Kozek 237.50, which is 59.38 per person

Hope everyone is good

Hey

Yep all paid up.

Yeah David, I emailed someone who I think is his assistant to setup a time, their name was Petrena, here's their email

pharrison@weenkozek.com

From what Kozek told me things have been delayed generally, so his prediction that legalization was moving forward in a few months is probably not happening in the near future.

Dear Christian,

Thank you for talking with me today.

If I hadn't sent those voicemails and I had shown up after you broke up with me you probably would have let us be together and work on your relationship.

Our relationship is the most important thing in my life.

I'll never forgive myself for that. I'll never forgive myself for causing you the stress I caused you. I'll never forgive myself for making you afraid.

And I'll never forgive myself for not having been good enough that you could look past that my mistakes.

I hear you when you say that so much of me was anger. I remember trying to tell you so calmly what I was upset about and you wouldn't hear. You still got defensive. I know it's pointless now because you don't want our love to grow anymore.

I see how my texts sounded like I didn't want to be with you but if it were true I would have broken up with you a long time ago. I want you to not just apologise but show me you understood why it hurt me. That was the only way I could be sure it wouldn't happen again. And I needed that to move forward. There was nothing you could do that would make me give up on such a great love. Does that make me pathetic?

I wish you would except my mistake and my remorse and know I am the person that you loved so much.

Please don't give up on us.

I never will.

Your great love forever and always

Subject: Question / Advice

Hi there fellow tenants.

My roommate was getting worried about mold in the apartment. There is no visible mold but she's been getting respiratory infections. She did a home test which are not accurate but now she's freaking out and has moved out.

I explained all this to Marty and asked him to have a professional test but he said no. I sent him info on NYC Law 55 that says the landlord is required to test for mold every year. Then he said ok I'll split it with me. I explained that's not what the law says.

I've emailed Kosck multiple times, his voice mailbox is full. I emailed the loft board. I haven't heard back from anyone.

My room is moving out she gave me only a week and a half notice. I really need to show there is no mold.

What do you think I should do? Any advice?

Kate

Hi Kate,

I'm sorry to hear that you are dealing with these issues that are potentially mold related.

1. I suggest that you document all of your correspondence with Marty very thoroughly. Also document your roommates complaints and that is the reason why she is leaving. Get her to sign an affidavit stating the situation and why she is leaving. Also get her to acknowledge that she knows that you have asked that landlord to deal with it and he has not gotten it done in the time necessary for her to stay a resident in your unit.

2. You're not legally required to pay rent so you can stop paying rent until Marty takes care of the situation. In my situation, Marty has still not taken care of the mold infestation in my unit almost 5 years after the flood, so that may or may not be an indication of how he may behave in your situation.

3. You can take the $ that you would normally pay Marty for rent and use it to handle the situation yourself, paying professionals to test and then conduct mold remediation, if necessary. If you opt for that route you need to document everything very thoroughly and use registered environmental inspectors and mold remediation companies so that if you need to present it in court, you are prepared.

4. Give Marty an ultimatum. You can tell him if the testing is not done by said date you will contract the services yourself and withhold rent until there is a determination and remediation (if necessary). The rent $ is your leverage with Marty, besides that he wants you to take a buyout and leave the building. Always keep in mind that you're are not legally required to pay rent and that you are paying him rent is an act of good faith. If there is a mold infestation, and there is a high probability there is, in one way or another, it will cost Marty $ to get it taken care of properly and he may not even ever do it. You may want to get it done yourself, either way, just to know that it's done and done properly.

5. It's probably best to get Kozek's advice and have him onboard with whatever decision you decide to go with.

6. Either way, get it tested and taken care of. Make sure that you are living in "healthy" environment.

Let us know how things progress.

Erez, has there been any word from Kozek?

I hope you all are well.

Peace,

Christian

If it came out positive than that's seems like reason enough to demand Marty bring in professionals to test and remediate. Either way make sure that it gets done and you may want to get it done yourself so that it gets done expeditiously and thoroughly.

I don't know if it was black mold.

But all the mold experts I've spoken with and everything online says those tests are completely not accurate. But yes, that is why she is freaking out she did a home test.

I have been documenting everything.

Not interacting with my roommate the past few days because I was hoping to get an inspector

I hate to withhold rent because I feel like that makes Marty just go after them in anyway he can but I might have to.

I do not understand why Kosck is not getting back to me.

Hey Kathryn,

Bummer and stressful! For what it's worth I also haven't been paying rent on Kozeks recommendation, haven't had any new problems or retaliation from Marty as a result. But I do not have a roommate / am not collecting rent.

I too haven't been getting email responses from Kozek in regards to a separate matter, my thinking is he doesn't want to get involved with stuff that's non loft law / critical stuff.

My advice is to withhold rent and use that money to resolve the issue on your own (or at least threaten this and then follow through if Marty doesn't concede).

If it came out positive than that's seems like reason enough to demand Marty bring in professionals to test and remediate. Either way make sure that it gets done and you may want to get it done yourself so that it gets done expeditiously and thoroughly.

Hi there fellow tenants.

My roommate was getting worried about mold in the apartment. There is no visible mold but she's been getting respiratory infections. She did a home test which are not accurate but now she's freaking out and has moved out.

I explained all this to Marty and asked him to have a professional test but he said no. I sent him info on NYC Law 55 that says the landlord is required to test for mold every year. Then he said ok I'll split it with me. I explained that's not what the law says.

I've emailed Kosck multiple times, his voice mailbox is full. I emailed the loft board. I haven't heard back from anyone.

My room is moving out she gave me only a week and a half notice. I really need to show there is no mold.

What do you think I should do? Any advice?

Thanks Erez,

Finally got in touch with Michael today.

He seemed surprised that I was paying rent.

I don't remember him advising us not to pay rent.

I thought it would just make problems and legal hassles that I don't want.

Hey Kathryn,

Bummer and stressful! For what it's worth I also haven't been paying rent on Kozeks recommendation, haven't had any new problems or retaliation from Marty as a result. But I do not have a roommate / am not collecting rent.

I too haven't been getting email responses from Kozek in regards to a separate matter, my thinking is he doesn't want to get involved with stuff that's non loft law / critical stuff.

My advice is to withhold rent and use that money to resolve the issue on your own (or at least threaten this and then follow through if Marty doesn't concede).

I don't know if it was black mold.

But all the mold experts I've spoken with and everything online says those tests are completely not accurate. But yes, that is why she is freaking out she did a home test.

I have been documenting everything.

Not interacting with my roommate the past few days because I was hoping to get an inspector here first.

I hate to withhold rent because I feel like that makes Marty just go after them in anyway he can but I might have to.

I do not understand why Kosck is not getting back to me.

Also, just to be clear, your roommate bought black mold home testing kit, tested your unit with it, and it came out positive, and that's why she's freaking out and leaving?

He said he was going to go over settlement points with Marty's lawyers and then I never heard from him again. That was about a year ago. I have only heard what Erez conveyed to us the last time that we had a group meeting. I've reached out to Michael a couple times in the last 9 months and have never heard back from him. FYI to the group- that's where things are at with my situation and hopefully I can get some clarity as to what's going on and move forward.

FYI- I also haven't been able to pay my bill, which Michael specifically told me on multiple occasion not to worry about and that we would get the $ in the settlements. I understand that he may change his mind about that situation but he should have at least told me and let me know what was going on with my case. As I said, I have reached out to him at least 2 or 3 times since we last spoke and I never heard from him.

FYI- I also haven't been able to pay my bill, which Michael specifically told me on multiple occasion not to worry about and that we would get the $ in the settlements. I understand that he may change his mind about that situation but he should have at least told me and let me know what was going on with my case. As I said, I have reached out to him at least 2 or 3 times since we last spoke and I never heard from him.

Dear all,

Happy new year! I trust this email finds you all well.

I am writing to schedule a meeting for your group with Michael Kozek in the coming days, if at all possible. There are some items that Michael needs to review and discuss with you.

Michael's schedule is pretty tight in the coming week, but he has some availability on Monday morning at 10:00am, 11:00am, 12:00pm, and at 2:00pm.

Is it possible for some or all of you to meet with Michael K during one of those time windows? Please confer among yourselves, and let us know what is possible. If you need to propose alternate days/times, don't hesitate.

Thanks in advance for your time and attention to this, and all the best.

Dear all,

Happy new year! I trust this email finds you all well.

I am writing to schedule a meeting for your group with Michael Kozek in the coming days, if at all possible. There are some items that Michael needs to review and discuss with you.

Michael's schedule is pretty tight in the coming week, but he has some availability on Monday morning at 10:00am, 11:00am, 12:00pm, and at 2:00pm.

Is it possible for some or all of you to meet with Michael K during one of those time windows? Please confer among yourselves, and let us know what is possible. If you need to propose alternate days/times, don't hesitate.

Thanks in advance for your time and attention to this, and all the best.

Michael

Sorry for the delay on this Michael. It was a bit of a mess, most of us worked w both of them during the protracted back and forth. Personally I became frustrated with Atlas and hired a personal architect to help me with my plans (which were more or less were approved, and appear to remain intact based on what you've sent over) I know most were not so fortunate.

Hi all – checking in here as we are in receipt of Mr. Paknia’s most recent Legalization Progress Report.

It states: “We are awaiting Loft Board to begin the clock in order to issue certification” and mentions the most recent conference in April 2021.

Mr. Paknia: what job applications does Owner still need Loft Board approval to continue on?

Have the most recent sets of plans for which LB approval is required been filed with us so we can start said clocks?

Please let me know, as the prior progress on legalization of this building predates me. Thanks everyone.

Good to see you all. I need your help in getting this done. Kate, thanks for recommending that you all stay on the call to hear what is going on and where things are at. It's important for me that you all know where things are at with my situation. It has been a VERY challenging experience and I am very grateful for how each of you have supported me in your own way. As you know it has been just 5 years and 3 months since I lost my home, and this needs to be resolved and I could use your help in holding Michael accountable and what needs to be done, done. He hadn't returned my calls or emails for about a year, and as we heard, there are time limits on certain courses of action and remedy.

This situation has caused a lot of stress for me and my family, it has affected the opening of my studio, that I spent years building, and in-turn the business that will be a part of it...my financial situation...etc, etc. etc. You get the picture.

Thanks again for your support and getting this done as a group. Even being witness to the conversation and being able to hold Michael accountable to his word is helpful.

As you just heard:

My job is to get the GC bids on two things.

Flood damage and mold remediation: Gutting the loft down to its studs, and removal of the studs (there is room that Marty's environmental inspector agreed that the studs and joists need to be removed, essentially the room needs to be removed) and disposing of the material.

Rebuilding and replacing damaged fixtures:

Rebuild what was removed.

Replace damaged appliances and fixtures.

Please let me know if I missed anything and give me clarification so that I can do my job efficiently and thoroughly. Thank you.

Peace,

Christian

I understand that he may change his mind about that situation but he should have at least told me and let me know what was going on with my case. As I said, I have reached out to him at least 2 or 3 times since we last spoke and I never heard from him.

Good to see everyone too. Happy to support everyone. I can't imagine how frustrating this has been for you Christian. Keeping us all there together felt important.

As to your next steps listed at the bottom, that is what I understood you to be needing to get a quote on.

Erez or David are either of you up for creating a google doc for the group?

I'm at a really low point physically and mentally right now so I rather not be in charge of it if that's ok.

Also, Michael just sent an email saying there were plans but I didn't see them in the email.

Good to see you all. I need your help in getting this done. Kate, thanks for recommending that you all stay on the call to hear what is going on and where things are at. It's important for me that you all know where things are at with my situation. It has been a VERY challenging experience and I am very grateful for how each of you have supported me in your own way. As you know it has been just 5 years and 3 months since I lost my home, and this needs to be resolved and I could use your help in holding Michael accountable and what needs to be done, done. He hadn't returned my calls or emails for about a year, and as we heard, there are time limits on certain courses of action and remedy.

This situation has caused a lot of stress for me and my family, it has affected the opening of my studio, that I spent years building, and in-turn the business that will be a part of it...my financial situation...etc, etc. etc. You get the picture.

Thanks again for your support and getting this done as a group. Even being witness to the conversation and being able to hold Michael accountable to his word is helpful.

As you just heard:

My job is to get the GC bids on two things.

Flood damage and mold remediation: Gutting the loft down to its studs, and removal of the studs (there is room that Marty's environmental inspector agreed that the studs and joists need to be removed, essentially the room needs to be removed) and disposing of the material.

Rebuilding and replacing damaged fixtures:

Rebuild what was removed.

Replace damaged appliances and fixtures.

Please let me know if I missed anything and give me clarification so that I can do my job efficiently and thoroughly. Thank you.

Peace,

Christian

Ok,

Just had a back and forth with Michael Bush at Kozeks office.
I've attached the two invoices, one which we paid in January for 712.50... we paid it right after our meeting with Kozek, so I assumed that was what we were paying for, but it was for his work associated with the OATH trial which was in November, and is what precipitated our meeting with him in January.
The second invoice, which we just got a reminder about, was for 578.49 was the bill for our meeting with him.

So we all owe 144.62, venmo when you get a chance and I'll settle up with them.

Hi all,

I hope you've been well.

The judge in the OATH harassment case brought me and Shapiro in for another settlement conference, as nothing has been moving forward with the case for some time. The owner has made a settlement proposal, as follows:

- $200k for Christian to be bought out in settlement of all claims
- $25k for each Erez, Kathryn and David to withdraw from the harassment case

They are also interested in buying everybody out, but would like to hear what your number is, if that is of interest to any or all of you.

Please let me know if you'd like to schedule a call to discuss.

Sincerely,

Mike

I mean, I don't know what that means $25k to drop the harassment case.

And $200k for Christian to be bought out that sounds way too little.

Also - as to a buyout I would be curious as to everyone's thoughts.

I would have been open for the right price but it is really hard for me to consider anything as I have been in such poor health and having a stable home feels like something I need.

I worry I wouldn't have the energy or strength to move.

I could always ask that I don't have to move out for X amount of time.

I worry dropping the harassment case would make me susceptible to getting kicked out.

I worry that if everyone else takes a buyout and I don't I would be susceptible.

Is everyone down for sharing openly with each other thoughts and how we plan to move forward?

Hi all,

I hope you've been well.

The judge in the OATH harassment case brought me and Shapiro in for another settlement conference, as nothing has been moving forward with the case for some time. The owner has made a settlement proposal, as follows:

- $200k for Christian to be bought out in settlement of all claims
- $25k for each Erez, Kathryn and David to withdraw from the harassment case

They are also interested in buying everybody out, but would like to hear what your number is, if that is of interest to any or all of you.

Please let me know if you'd like to schedule a call to discuss.

Sincerely,

Mike

Subject: For US

I mean, I don't know what that means $25k to drop the harassment case.

And $200k for Christian to be bought out that sounds way too little.

Also - as to a buyout I would be curious as to everyone's thoughts.

I would have been open for the right price but it is really hard for me to consider anything as I have been in such poor health and having a stable home feels like something I need.

I worry I wouldn't have the energy or strength to move.

I could always ask that I don't have to move out for X amount of time.

I worry dropping the harassment case would make me susceptible to getting kicked out.

I worry that if everyone else takes a buyout and I don't I would be susceptible.

Is everyone down for sharing openly with each other thoughts and how we plan to move forward?

And $200k for Christian to be bought out that sounds way too little.

Also - as to a buyout I would be curious as to everyone's thoughts.

I would have been open for the right price but it is really hard for me to consider anything as I have been in such poor health and having a stable home feels like something I need.

I worry I wouldn't have the energy or strength to move.

I could always ask that I don't have to move out for X amount of time.

I worry dropping the harassment case would make me susceptible to getting kicked out.

I worry that if everyone else takes a buyout and I don't I would be susceptible.

Is everyone down for sharing openly with each other thoughts and how we plan to move forward?

And $200k for Christian to be bought out that sounds way too little.

Also - as to a buyout I would be curious as to everyone's thoughts.

I would have been open for the right price but it is really hard for me to consider anything as I have been in such poor health and having a stable home feels like something I need.

I worry I wouldn't have the energy or strength to move.

I could always ask that I don't have to move out for X amount of time.

I worry dropping the harassment case would make me susceptible to getting kicked out.

I worry that if everyone else takes a buyout and I don't I would be susceptible.

Is everyone down for sharing openly with each other thoughts and how we plan to move forward?

And $200k for Christian to be bought out that sounds way too little.

Also - as to a buyout I would be curious as to everyone's thoughts.

I would have been open for the right price but it is really hard for me to consider anything as I have been in such poor health and having a stable home feels like something I need.

I worry I wouldn't have the energy or strength to move.

I could always ask that I don't have to move out for X amount of time.

I worry dropping the harassment case would make me susceptible to getting kicked out.

I worry that if everyone else takes a buyout and I don't I would be susceptible.

Is everyone down for sharing openly with each other thoughts and how we plan to move forward?

I would have been open for the right price but it is really hard for me to consider anything as I have been in such poor health and having a stable home feels like something I need.

I worry I wouldn't have the energy or strength to move.

I could always ask that I don't have to move out for X amount of time.

I worry dropping the harassment case would make me susceptible to getting kicked out.

I worry that if everyone else takes a buyout and I don't I would be susceptible.

Is everyone down for sharing openly with each other thoughts and how we plan to move forward?

I had the 30min meeting with Kozek. We started the process of getting into the Supreme Court Complaint that he wants to file on my behalf.

I introduced the idea of Eric Sherman/Pryor Cashman's involvement in the SCC, etc., and he was good with it and said to let him know what Eric says. Eric is reviewing the SCC and legal binder now and he said that he will schedule a call with me soon to discuss him involvement.

We discussed the OATH harassment case and how settlement could potentially affect my SC case and harassment claims/actions and he said that he would never allow any settlement to compromise my SC case. He also said that the likely-hood of Kofman accepting any of the asks that we are making (what we discussed with Kozek but not has been presented to Kofman) is very small and that it will most likely end up going before the OATH judge in one way or another. --- (*the following is my opinion) that being said we put the ball in Kofman's court to make buyout offers which will most likely be much lower than what people are willing to settle for so we (TA & Kozek) will strategize from there.

I will let you know how the check in goes next week before i head out for Belén and my honeymoon. Kozek said that we will plan for another meeting when I get back so that Eric Sherman, he, and I can all get on the same page and move forward the SCC filing.

I'll be in touch with any developments.

Also, I have a question: How much were you each individually get charged for 226 Franklin invoices? They would look something like this:

226 FRANKLIN -- CHRISTIAN GRAY (3006.04)

--- I know that we have paid him for our TA meeting calls re: OATH and whatever else we discussed as a group, but I am assuming this individual billing is for the OATH harassment case prep. I asked him for clarification and he said he would look into it. What did your individual bills look like in relation to the OATH case? Please let me know. This would just be for the OATH case, not other issues that you may have brought him in on that do not pertain directly with OATH harassment case.

Thank you.

My invoice says:

226 FRANKLIN -- CHRISTIAN GRAY (3006.04)

For services rendered between October 01, 2025 and October 31, 2025

This would have been OATH related, for the month of October 2025...I think. I don't know what else Kozek has put in a substantial amount of work for us, as a group, not each of us individually.

Thanks Kate, and thanks for the honeymoon well-wishes! Peace

My invoice is for $7,960.35, FYI. Just wanted to understand how it relates to each of yours. This invoice does not relate to my HP case. This would just be for OATH, I am assuming, and I inquired with Kozek he said that he didn't know and he would look into it --- again, this was just for the month of October 2025 and I would like to understand how my invoice compares to all of yours and assuming that you got individual invoices for the OATH case.

Also, Kozek is NOT concerned about me paying it at the moment, there is zero pressure from him but I would like to know how an $8K bill came about for the month of October, and how it compares to each of yours. This would be about 15-17hrs of work (@$450 an hour) just on my section of the case, depending on Michael's hourly etc. Does anyone know what Michael's current hourly rate is?

Thanks.

Peace,

Christian

I had the 30min meeting with Kozek. We started the process of getting into the Supreme Court Complaint that he wants to file on my behalf.

I introduced the idea of Eric Sherman/Pryor Cashman's involvement in the SCC, etc., and he was good with it and said to let him know what Eric says. Eric is reviewing the SCC and legal binder now and he said that he will schedule a call with me soon to discuss his involvement.

We discussed the OATH harassment case and how settlement could potentially affect my SC case and harassment claims/actions and he said that he would never allow any settlement to compromise my SC case.

He also said that the likely-hood of Kofman accepting any of the asks that we are making (what we discussed with Kozek but not has been presented to Kofman) is very small and that it will most likely end up going before the OATH judge in one way or another.

--- (*the following is my opinion) that being said we put the ball in Kofman's court to make buyout offers which will most likely be much lower than what people are willing to settle for so we (TA & Kozek) will strategize from there.

I will let you know how the check in goes next week before i head out for Belén and my honeymoon. Kozek said that we will plan for another meeting when I get back so that Eric Sherman, he, and I can all get on the same page and move forward the SCC filing.

I'll be in touch with any developments.

Also, I have a question: How much were you each individually get charged for 226 Franklin invoices? They would look something like this:

226 FRANKLIN -- CHRISTIAN GRAY (3006.04)

--- I know that we have paid him for our TA meeting calls re: OATH and whatever else we discussed as a group, but I am assuming this individual billing is for the OATH harassment case prep. I asked him for clarification and he said he would look into it. What did your individual bills look like in relation to the OATH case? Please let me know. This would just be for the OATH case, not other issues that you may have brought him in on that do not pertain directly with OATH harassment case.

Thank you.

Subject: Re: For US

I had the 30min meeting with Kozek. We started the process of getting into the Supreme Court Complaint that he wants to file on my behalf.

I introduced the idea of Eric Sherman/Pryor Cashman's involvement in the SCC, etc., and he was good with it and said to let him know what Eric says. Eric is reviewing the SCC and legal binder now and he said that he will schedule a call with me soon to discuss his involvement.

We discussed the OATH harassment case and how settlement could potentially affect my SC case and harassment claims/actions and he said that he would never allow any settlement to compromise my SC case. He also said that the likely-hood of Kofman accepting any of the asks that we are making (what we discussed with Kozek but not has been presented to Kofman) is very small and that it will most likely end up going before the OATH judge in one way or another. --- (*the following is my opinion) that being said we put the ball in Kofman's court to make buyout offers which will most likely be much lower than what people are willing to settle for so we (TA & Kozek) will strategize from there.

I will let you know how the check in goes next week before i head out for Belén and my honeymoon. Kozek said that we will plan for another meeting when I get back so that Eric Sherman, he, and I can all get on the same page and move forward the SCC filing.

I'll be in touch with any developments.

Also, I have a question: How much were you each individually get charged for 226 Franklin invoices? They would look something like this:

226 FRANKLIN -- CHRISTIAN GRAY (3006.04)

--- I know that we have paid him for our TA meeting calls re: OATH and whatever else we discussed as a group, but I am assuming this individual billing is for the OATH harassment case prep. I asked him for clarification and he said he would look into it. What did your individual bills look like in relation to the OATH case? Please let me know. This would just be for the OATH case, not other issues that you may have brought him in on that do not pertain directly with OATH harassment case.

Thank you.

Peace

I mean, I don't know what that means $25k to drop the harassment case.

And $200k for Christian to be bought out that sounds way too little.

Also - as to a buyout I would be curious as to everyone's thoughts.

I would have been open for the right price but it is really hard for me to consider anything as I have been in such poor health and having a stable home feels like something I need.

I worry I wouldn't have the energy or strength to move.

I could always ask that I don't have to move out for X amount of time.

I worry dropping the harassment case would make me susceptible to getting kicked out.

I worry that if everyone else takes a buyout and I don't I would be susceptible.

Is everyone down for sharing openly with each other thoughts and how we plan to move forward?

Hi all, I spoke with Shapiro. Per our last meeting, I asked him if they have a proposal to buy out all of you. He came back with an initial proposal of $600k for everybody, though it sounds like they are open to doing individual deals. He said that if individuals are interested, we should get back to them. Hi all,

I hope you've been well.

The judge in the OATH harassment case brought me and Shapiro in for another settlement conference, as nothing has been moving forward with the case for some time. The owner has made a settlement proposal, as follows:

- $200k for Christian to be bought out in settlement of all claims

- $25k for each Erez, Kathryn and David to withdraw from the harassment case

They are also interested in buying everybody out, but would like to hear what your number is, if that is of interest to any or all of you.

Please let me know if you'd like to schedule a call to discuss.

We've got confirmation from you, David and me. We're still waiting on Christian. If he can't make it I still think it's worth meeting and we can fill him in on the details. However, I'm flexible if anyone feels differently.

Hi all,

I hope you've been well.

The judge in the OATH harassment case brought me and Shapiro in for another settlement conference, as nothing has been moving forward with the case for some time. The owner has made a settlement proposal, as follows:

- $200k for Christian to be bought out in settlement of all claims
- $25k for each Erez, Kathryn and David to withdraw from the harassment case

They are also interested in buying everybody out, but would like to hear what your number is, if that is of interest to any or all of you.

Please let me know if you'd like to schedule a call to discuss.

- $25k for each Erez, Kathryn and David to withdraw from the harassment case

Hi all,

I hope you've been well.

The judge in the OATH harassment case brought me and Shapiro in for another settlement conference, as nothing has been moving forward with the case for some time. The owner has made a settlement proposal, as follows:

- $200k for Christian to be bought out in settlement of all claims
- $25k for each Erez, Kathryn and David to withdraw from the harassment case

They are also interested in buying everybody out, but would like to hear what your number is, if that is of interest to any or all of you.

Please let me know if you'd like to schedule a call to discuss.

Subject: Re: 226 Franklin

I just wanted to check in with everyone about dropping the harassment case and taking the $25k offer or if APC was open to our offer for a larger amount and the PPAs?

I'm in a desperate financial situation right now so I just wanted to check in and see how that was moving along.

I know we had discussed reinvesting it in getting the building up to code but I would need to use some of it for personal expenses.

If it's not happening because it's not the right move, that's fine, but if it is then I just wanted to know where we are in the process.

Thanks,

Kate

Hi all,

I hope you've been well.

The judge in the OATH harassment case brought me and Shapiro in for another settlement conference, as nothing has been moving forward with the case for some time. The owner has made a settlement proposal, as follows:

- $200k for Christian to be bought out in settlement of all claims
- $25k for each Erez, Kathryn and David to withdraw from the harassment case

They are also interested in buying everybody out, but would like to hear what your number is, if that is of interest to any or all of you.

Please let me know if you'd like to schedule a call to discuss.

Sincerely,

Mike

At this point there is no deal. I conveyed the $50k + PAAs offer to Shapiro, which was not received with much enthusiasm. He said he would discuss it with his client. For the time-being, we should assume that there is no deal.

I'm in a desperate financial situation right now so I just wanted to check in and see how that was moving along.

I know we had discussed reinvesting it in getting the building up to code but I would need to use some of it for personal expenses.

If it's not happening because it's not the right move, that's fine, but if it is then I just wanted to know where we are in the process.

Hi all, I spoke with Shapiro. Per our last meeting, I asked him if they have a proposal to buy out all of you. He came back with an initial proposal of $600k for everybody, though it sounds like they are open to doing individual deals. He said that if individuals are interested, we should get back to them. Can you all do a meeting with me next Thursday evening at 730pm to discuss our next move?

Erez et al,

I'd be happy to help coordinate something. Next week is looking pretty packed but the following week is much more flexible. Would Monday, 2/2 at 4pm work for everyone? I can also provide some alternative times on 2/2 or 2/3.

Hey Michael

While we're discussing this, do you have some time availability options?

Anything Wed - Friday next week, and a few options at the top of the following week? Ideally nothing earlier than 10am.

Thanks for the updates, talk soon

Hi all,

I hope you've been well.

The judge in the OATH harassment case brought me and Shapiro in for another settlement conference, as nothing has been moving forward with the case for some time. The owner has made a settlement proposal, as follows:

- $200k for Christian to be bought out in settlement of all claims
- $25k for each Erez, Kathryn and David to withdraw from the harassment case

They are also interested in buying everybody out, but would like to hear what your number is, if that is of interest to any or all of you.

Please let me know if you'd like to schedule a call to discuss.

Sincerely,

Mike
